

Broneirion is conveniently located in the beautiful valley of the Severn, eight miles from the market town of Newtown and two miles from the village of Caersws in Powys, Mid Wales. The area offers good road and rail links and is within easy reach of the Midlands.

Broneirion was built in 1864 and is a Grade II listed building which was originally the home of renowned Welsh industrialist, David Davies. The House is the perfect venue for training, conferences and meetings and has excellent facilities to accommodate both large and small groups. It is in a peaceful and picturesque location, overlooking the village of Llandinam.

The House, set in four acres of grounds, looks particularly beautiful in the spring when the daffodils, rhododendrons and azaleas are in full bloom. The very tall Wellingtonia trees are a noted landmark and the wooded area above the house contains Y Bwthyn originally built as a summerhouse and now a newly refurbished venue for meetings and trainings.

The Lodge, situated at the entrance to Broneirion, is the administrative Headquarters of Girlguiding Cymru.
